25 CO-EDS ARE ENROLLED HERE FOR NEXT TERM

Dr. Charles H. Huber, Director, Says Applications Are Received Daily.

TWO HOSTESSES TO BE IN CHARGE

Inquiries from prospective co-ed students at Gettysburg college for the 1935-36 term are being received in increasingly large numbers, Dr. Charles H. Huber, now headmaster at Gettysburg academy, but who will be director of the women's campus starting in the fall, announced today.

Although only 25 boarding and day co-ed students have actually been enrolled at the college, each mail brings more and more inquiries about rates and facilities, Doctor Huber said. The increase in the number of inquiries has been marked since the advent of the high school graduation season, he added.

Suited for Dormitory
Few changes will be made to the academy building in preparation for the return of women students to Gettysburg college in the fall, Doctor Huber said, adding, "The present building is admirably suited for a girl's dormitory."

The only change contemplated is the setting aside and equipping of two rooms as an infirmary, Doctor Huber said.

Two women will be in charge of the boarding students who live at the girls' dormitory. Mrs. Henry W. Phelps, now secretary to the academy's headmaster, will reside at the dormitory where she will serve in the capacity of hostess.

Doctor Huber also has asked for the services of a Lutheran deaconess from the Mother house in Baltimore. As yet, the deaconess who will serve here has not been assigned.

The estimated yearly cost for boarding students will vary from $55 to $635, according to the size and location of the room occupied in the dormitory. The room rental will vary from $40 to $80, depending upon location and whether the student takes a single or double room. All rooms will be furnished.

Doctor Huber said the expenses of the boarding students will not be much greater than those of the male students.

TO RESUME WORK ON BREAM'S DAM

Much of Work Done Last Fall Will Be Done Again Because of Winter Damage.

Work on the construction of Bream's dam across Marsh Creek, south of the Fairfield road, stopped last fall by high water and inclement weather, will be resumed next Monday morning, James R. McConaghie, superintendent of the Gettysburg national park, announced today.

A large force of C. C. C. camp members will be placed at work and the dam will be rushed to completion, the superintendent added.

Much of the preliminary work on the dam last fall will have to be done again, Mr. McConaghie said, because high waters during the winter filled in the trench for the foundation.

The dam is being constructed on the site of a former dam which was washed away by high water. The new dam will be of concrete, between three and four feet high and about 100 feet wide. It will have a spillway to take care of high waters.

The dam is one of eleven which the Adams county fish and game association has listed on a public works' administration project.

Orchardists Get Data on Insects

To each 100 gallons of spray, add lime sulphur solution, three pounds of lead arsenate and two pounds of powdered skim milk, Mr. Hartman advises.

"It is essential to cover the young apples and the underside of the leaves as well as the upper sides," the bulletin reads. "Spray the inside of the tree as well as the outside. Avoid burning the foliage by using a mist spray on the lower parts of the trees and the stream to reach the tops."

GEORGE AMICK ADMITS BLAME IN SERB PROBE

Tells Committee He Signed Payroll Sheets He Knew To Be Incorrect.

TOLD TO QUIT OR BE "FIRED"

Adams countians came under a cross-fire of examination at a public hearing of the state emergency relief board investigating committee, Saturday afternoon, with Assemblyman P. C. Moomaw, of Waynesboro, directing the inquiry.

After Floyd Chalfant, of Waynesboro, had charged that "certain campaigners" had advised relief workers "they had better vote the democratic ticket" last November, the board delved into allegations that two music teachers were carried on a "blind" payroll in Adams county under the emergency education program.

George H. Amick, of Gettysburg, testified he was compelled to resign as assistant supervisor on the Adams county music project because of irregularities in the payroll which were due to the alleged doubling up on payrolls.

Amick said he was given the alternative of resigning or being fired at a conference held some time ago by Charles Emerick, state director of emergency education; Works Director Maurice W. Bushman, of Adams county; J. Lynn Welsh, deputy area works director, and Robert Boyle, of Gettysburg, area supervisor of emergency education.

Accepts Responsibility
Amick said he accepts responsibility for signing time sheets which he knew to be incorrect but averred he was obligated to do so in order to provide salaries for Mrs. Maude Wierman Kennedy and Richard Slaybaugh, who ultimately succeeded Mrs. Kennedy.

Fellow teachers contributed to the salaries of Mrs. Kennedy and Slaybaugh. The latter was carried on the "blind" payroll for about two weeks and Mrs. Kennedy for a longer period, he said.

It was inferred the arrangement was carried out because the demand for music instruction was greater than could be handled by teachers carried on the regular FERA payroll.

On December 27 at the works relief office, Amick said, he was given a discharge slip to sign, dismissing Mrs. Kennedy. At the behest of Prof. Floyd J. Slaybaugh, Adams county superintendent of schools and chairman of the Adams county emergency education advisory board, Amick stated, Mrs. Kennedy was retained until her dismissal was ordered about seven weeks ago by L. I. Chronier, former area director of emergency relief.

Professor Slaybaugh said at the time teachers were drawn difficulty was encountered in getting qualified music teachers. Mrs. Kennedy said she was not physically fit to teach 30 hours a week and it was verbally agreed that she and a teacher named Ernest Shultz, of Cashtown, should share the work. Shultz to draw the salary and split with her.

Not At Conference

Professor Slaybaugh said he had no knowledge of arrangements made in other cases. He said he was not called into the conference at which Amick's resignation was requested. He also stated that the Richard Slaybaugh referred to at the hearing is no near kin of his.

Assemblyman P. C. Moomaw, who conducted the hearing, said he had a letter from Miss Margaret Broke, SERB field supervisor, stating that at a conference at Harrisburg it was pointed out that Richard Slaybaugh, then an applicant for a job in the Adams county music project, could qualify under the budgetary deficiency plan by establishing a home for himself and wife away from his father's home.

Boyle testified Professor Slaybaugh was not called into the conference on Amick's dismissal because his position in the emergency education agency was only advisory. He said he didn't recall who called the meeting, and added no notes were taken. He said it was agreed to keep the matter quiet in the interest of Amick, who had erred but who had not wilfully done anything wrong.

RELIEF AWAITS HOME OWNERS

Those Facing Loss of Homes Through Foreclosures May Secure Aid.

Relief awaits those Adams countyans who face the loss of their homes through mortgage foreclosure, according to an announcement issued today by the Home Owners' Loan corporation, which will accept, for a period of 30 days applications from those who are in such straits. The statement emphasized that such applications will be accepted only from home owners, who are clearly in distress.

"The same tests of eligibility, which have applied in the past, will, in general, continue in full force under this new legislation," the announcement sets forth. The corporation intends to make every effort to assist home owners who are in genuine financial difficulty, but it will be forced to reject every application which is not clearly eligible.

No home owner is urged to apply for a loan until he or she has first made certain that their application will be eligible under the restrictions. Applicants are warned to realize that the rejection of an ineligible application, on grounds of deliberate default on existing debts, is likely to cause the home owner the loss of his property, because of the unwillingness of his present mortgagee to carry the loan following such default.

Eligibility Tests

Tests of eligibility are as follows, the sub-district management said:

1. The applicant must have been in involuntary default on his home loan on June 13, 1933, and unable to carry or refund his present mortgage, unless it can be shown to the corporations' satisfaction that a default occurring later than June 13, 1933, was the result of unemployment or other misfortune beyond the applicant's control. The corporation was created to protect honest home owners, who are in temporary difficulty, and not for the purpose of saving lenders from the results of their own past mistakes in making excessive loans, or in lending to persons not entitled to credit.

2. The past record of the applicant for integrity is a vital factor. Any applicant will be rejected as ineligible if his general record is unsatisfactory, particularly if he has deliberately defaulted on his existing indebtedness and has a record of not paying his bills when he is able to do so.

3. To redeem the home from forced sale or voluntary surrender, such sale or surrender must have taken place since January 1, 1930.

4. The applicant must be in actual distress with his mortgage indebtedness and threatened with the loss of his home by foreclosure. Applicants, who have no present or prospective income of any character and clearly could not meet the indebtedness, are ineligible unless their notes are also signed by responsible parties.

5. The property must be used by the owner as his home or held by him as his homestead and, as a rule, it must have been his home on June 13, 1933.

6. The home must have a value not exceeding $20,000 as appraised by the corporation. No loan may be made for an amount exceeding $14,000 or 80 per cent of the corporation's appraisal of the property, whichever is the smaller.

7. Ordinary farm property is not eligible unless the applicant draws his main livelihood from non-farm occupations.

8. No applicant will be granted a loan if such refinancing is intended only to protect a bank loan or other business obligation.

9. The corporation will not refinance the home of an owner who can continue to carry his present loan.

The fence, which will be built within the wire inclosure of the rambling Sussex county jail, where the gallows on which the mother and son will be hanged, arrived Wednesday from a neighboring county.

Mrs. May H. Carey, 52, and Howard Carey, 27, doomed because they killed her brother, Robert H. Hitchens, for his $2,000 insurance policy, made preparations for their burial, even ordering their funeral garb and caskets, while their attorney, Frederick P. Whitney expressed "hopes" that Gov. C. Douglass C. Buck will stay the execution. But the governor has shown no inclination to intervene.

Both Read Bibles

While the gallows were being brought to Georgetown from Wilmington, the mother and son read their Bibles, outwardly resigned to their doom.

Jail attaches said all was in readiness today. Witnesses were instructed to be at the jail no later than 4:30 a. m., Friday, indicating that the hanging would take place shortly after 5 o'clock.

Only witnesses, physicians and spiritual advisers, thirty in all, will be permitted to witness the executions. The fence is to be built to keep the curious from looking on, and state police said no automobiles would be allowed within a quarter mile of the prison on Friday morning.

Hitchens' death was a mystery for seven years.

Lawrence, youngest son of the doomed woman, was arrested in December for breaking into a dwelling. An investigator recalled the mysterious circumstances surrounding Hitchens' death, and the case was reopened as the boy was held. Officers said he told them of the murder and implicated the mother and his brother.

Mrs. Carey, at the trial, assumed responsibility for the slaying, which the court declared one of the "most vicious in the criminal annals of the state."

Mother and son were convicted. The pardon board refused to grant a commutation.

Viscount Byng, Hero of Vimy, Dies in England

Thorpe-le-Soken, Essex, England, June 6 (AP).—The hero of Vimy Ridge and the Canadian Corps of the British world war expeditionary force, Viscount Byng, of Vimy, 72, died at 2 a. m. today.

The old fighter, who once tried to retire into a life of peace, but was called back to reorganize London's metropolitan police, died following an operation hastily performed to relieve an intestinal condition.

The death of the "hero of Vimy Ridge," whose long career also included a term as governor general of Canada, left Lord Allenby as the only surviving outstanding leader of the British troops in the World war.

Lord Byng had spent the last few years in search of health, visiting Canada and the United States.

Mount Graduates 10 High Students

Emmitsburg, June 6.—The smallest class in the history of Mount St. Mary's College high school received diplomas here Tuesday evening. This was due to the announcement last summer that only the junior and senior classes would be received at the opening of school in September, that after the present junior class graduated next June the high-school department would close and the dormitory and classrooms would be occupied by the college freshman class.

The exercises were presided over by the Rev. John L. Sheridan, vice president of Mount St. Mary's College. The address was delivered by the Rev. Dr. William E. Kelly, of Brunswick, Md.

The following prizes were awarded:

In the classical course for general excellence—Joseph Michael Fitzgerald, Philadelphia.

In the scientific course—Cornelius Francis McGarry, Philadelphia.

Honorable mention for close competition in the classical course—Robert Archibald Conner, Brooklyn.

Honorable mention for class competition in scientific course—Robert William Duffy, Hasbuck Heights, New Jersey.

Diplomas were awarded to the following: Bernard Francis Boyle, Emmitsburg; Benedict Carrochio, New York city; Robert Archibald Conner, Brooklyn, N. Y.; Robert William Duffy, Hasbuck Heights, N. J.; Joseph Michael Fitzgerald, Philadelphia; Joseph Donald Lingg, Emmitsburg; Cornelius Francis McGarry, Philadelphia; Cornelius John O'Neil, Brooklyn, N. Y.; Martin Alphonse Slade, Gettysburg, and Paul Joseph Halloran, Quincy, Mass.

Washington, June 6 (AP).—A resolution extending a skeleton NRA organization until April 1, 1936, but repealing all presidential power to prescribe, approve, or enforce codes of fair competition, was agreed today by house, senate, and administration leaders.

Man With $10,000 in Auto Held in Mail-Theft Case

South Boston, Va., June 6 (AP).—A man who identified himself as Albert C. Davis, a former postoffice employee at Rock Hill, S. C., was arrested Wednesday by South Boston police, who took from his automobile currency which they estimated to be in excess of $10,000.

He was held for South Carolina authorities in connection with the theft from the mails of money sent from the American Trust company at Charlotte, N. C., to the Bank of Lancaster, at Lancaster, S. C.

A sealed bag on the floor of the man's automobile contained $7,000 in currency, police quoted Davis as saying, although they did not count it before placing it in the safe of the South Boston bank and trust company, and an estimated $3,500 in neatly wrapped packages was found in the door pockets of the machine. A slit in the money bag revealed the color of the currency inside, officers said.

South Boston Officers Ross Nolan and Philip T. Wilborn, who arrested the man as he lay asleep near his car in a clump of woods near Omeaga, about six miles from here, said Davis submitted quietly.

They quoted him as saying: "I'm glad you got me. I'm sick of this thing."

Police were led to Davis by Billy Whitt, a resident of the Omega neighborhood, who said the man had been acting "suspiciously."

The officers said they found in the machine a pair of white overalls similar to those worn by postoffice employees. The car had no license plates on it, they said.

POLICE NAME FIVE MEN IN KIDNAP HUNT

Train Robbers and Alleged Murderers Accused of Boys' Abduction.

FEDERAL AGENTS HOPE FOR "SLIP"

Tacoma, Wash., June 6 (AP).—Police of Portland, Ore., Wednesday named five men as wanted for questioning in the George Weyerhaeuser kidnapping while federal officers here watched for the first serious slip by the snatch gang.

Federal agents in charge of the manhunt here refused to affirm or deny the men named in Portland were wanted by them, but asked to be given their names.

Five Men Named

Capt. John Keegan, of the Portland detective bureau, named the men as Richard Franzen and Elbert Michener, indicted for the Denver and Rio Grande Railroad robbery February 2; Jack Bailey, of Portland; Clarence Martin and Herbert Lester Johnstone, alias "Shadow."

Keegan said Franzen and Michener were former partners of Jack Laird and that "we know they were with Laird" in train robberies at Salt Lake City and Toledo, Wash.

He also said that when Laird was arrested in St. Paul two months ago, "he had detailed plans to kidnap Edsel Ford." Laird was sent to Alcatraz prison. He previously escaped from the Oregon penitentiary November 7, 1934, after serving time on his conviction on a murder charge in 1919.

Big-Shot Bootlegger

Bailey, Captain Keegan said, was "a big-shot bootlegger" and was known to have lived about a block from the Weyerhaeuser home in Tacoma.

The Portland officer said Bailey had last been seen there May 15 and that Martin and Johnstone were suspected of implication in a $10,000 extortion plot against the mayor of Olympia, Wash., several years ago.

Franzen and Michener were last seen in Salt Lake City several weeks ago, Portland authorities said.

Six Reported in Gang

Nine-year-old George Weyerhaeuser, heir to a timber fortune, returned to his parents last Saturday after payment of $200,000 ransom, said there were six men in the kidnap gang, two kept their faces masked most of the time.

The largest force of federal officers ever gathered in a Pacific northwest crime investigation dogged the trail of the kidnapers, with every indication they were set to take advantage of a false move by the gang.

Passing of the first ransom note in eastern Oregon Sunday night was a definite clue in the grim manhunt for the boy's abductors.

Justice department headquarters refused to discuss moves in the search, but it was known two agents had been sent to Huntington, Oregon, where the first bill from the $200,000 ransom fund popped up.

college and the University of Arkansas, remaining at the latter school for 12 years.

Governor In 1916

In 1916, he was nominated by the democratic party for governor of Arkansas, and was elected in November that year by an unprecedented majority. He is credited with having organized the first "Woodrow Wilson for President club" in 1911.

After serving two terms as governor of Arkansas, Mr. Brough became a "headliner" with a chautauqua circuit.

President Roosevelt appointed Mr. Brough as chairman of the District of Columbia-Virginia boundary commission in March, 1934, to arbitrate the 143-year-old controversy between the federal government and Virginia over approximately $265,000,000 worth of disputed territory.

Many Affiliations

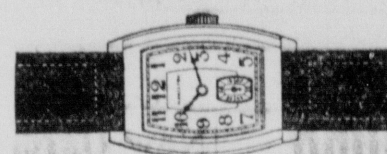

Mr. Brough is a Mason, a Knight Templar, a Scottish Rite thirty-second degree Mason, a past district deputy of the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks, a Woodman of the World, a Knight of Pythias, a member of the Tribe of Ben Hur and the Loyal Order of Moose.

He is a member of the Country club of Little Rock, Arkansas; past president of the United States good roads' association, a member of the Mississippi, Arkansas and American Historical societies, the American Political Science association, vice president of the Longfellow Society of America, a member of the Arkansas centennial commission and the Arkansas state park commission.

ENEMY'S KISS

by Evelyn M. Winch

SYNOPSIS: Alison Role has learned that the man in whose arms she had seen her father's fiancée is to be on the same boat with her father, Daphne, and herself when they sail for Spain after the wedding tomorrow. Daphne, her stepmother-to-be, is obviously playing a game, and Alison must think of a way to warn her father. Guy Lumley, who might have helped, Alison will not ask because she believes he has lied to her.

Chapter 34

POINTBLANK QUESTION.
"Why, yes, Señor Gomez, we're off tomorrow," Daphne Summers answered. "I'm getting married, you know, and we mean to catch the afternoon boat."

"That is fortunate for me, since I will be on the same train." He said that direct to Alison and underlined it with a languorous, caressing glance that made her turn abruptly away. But even with her head turned, her eyes on Daphne, she could feel him watching her and her repulsion grew.

"You'll be on that train?" Daphne's surprise was shrill, yet Alison felt sure she had arranged the whole thing. "You're leaving England at once, then?" As he did not answer, she repeated sharply "Are you leaving England?"

"What? Oh, yes, I must get back to work." But though he said that smoothly, Daphne had seen him start and drag his gaze away from the girl. She flashed a look at Alison and a heavy red color stole into her bony cheeks.

"It's certainly a mistake not to attend to business," she agreed; even Alison caught the acid note behind that.

He rose at once.
"There is the bell. I must get back to my seat. Au revoir, Madame." He bent low over Daphne's hand and kissed it. "Au revoir, Mademoiselle."

He went out with a gliding undulating movement which reminded Alison of a snake.

When the door had shut, Daphne said in her most plaintive, nasal drone, "He's really nice, Gomez; he's not a Spaniard, though. I believe he's a Colombian or something. Spanish-American anyway, but he was a wonderful friend to me when I had trouble over my passport once. That's why I'm so glad to be able to recommend him and use his hotel now."

The curtain had gone up again; Robert had come back into the box and was sitting between his daughter and fiancée. Alison, sheltered by her father from Daphne's keen eyes, leaned forward looking at the stage, although she neither heard a word or heard the actor. Her whole mind was concentrated on a single issue: how could she warn her father?

For it had come to that now. To cheat him like that! For Gomez and Daphne were in love; apart from the kiss, Daphne had given herself away by the acid note in her voice and the flush on her face, and Alison found it difficult to disguise her own contempt when Daphne spoke to her at all.

How could she let her own father walk blindfold into such a trap, Alison asked herself, saring wide-eyed yet unseeing at the stage. How could she put him on his guard?

If she told him her belief, he would merely scoff at the idea and be angry, or put it down to jealousy, or be shocked she should think such things. Daphne had primed him too well.

And tomorrow, at half past one, they would be married. All the mothering, protective instinct of a woman, latent in the girl, rose at the thought of letting Robert marry Daphne Summers. But had she the courage to tell him outright, chance his anger and disbelief? Or should she speak herself to Daphne?

The curtain fell. Robert got up and went out to smoke. Alison sat very still in her corner.

Daphne was lying back in her chair, the immense fox collar of her

KIDNEY MISERY

THING OF PAST

Suffering Stopped When He Discovered Indo-Vin Medicine

MR. HOOVER L. HENRY, of 429 Pear St., Harrisburg, says:

"My kidneys simply kept me in CONSTANT misery. In fact, I was so stiff and sore in my back when I got up in the mornings that I could hardly even walk, and I had to keep rising with my kidneys all night."

MR. HENRY
Long, which broke up my sleep and rest. I tried everything under the sun but nothing helped me until I got Indo-Vin and it has done me more good than anything else PUT TOGETHER. My kidneys are acting in a normal manner now, I can go to bed and sleep and don't have to keep getting up and down all night and I don't have any kidney misery in my back. This medicine is a 'wonder' and I gladly endorse it." You can now get Indo-Vin at Peoples drug store, here in Gettysburg and from all good druggists throughout this whole section.

The hard expression snapped back into place as if released from a spring.

"Yes?" Mrs. Summers picked up her glasses and looked through them at the box opposite. "Oh, my dear! Look at that woman! Did you ever see such a figure?"

"Daphne, will you tell me one thing?"
"The glasses dropped."
"Himm. What?"
"Is Señor Gomez married?"

"What an extraordinary question!" Although she laughed, there was a hint of fear in Daphne's eyes. "As a matter of fact, I don't believe he is. Why do you ask?"
"I wondered..." Always shy, the girl was suffering acutely under those pointedly amused eyes.

"Don't tell me you've fallen in love with him at first sight!" Daphne's laugh was shrill and unpleasant.

"Of course not. I didn't even—"

Alison stopped, confused.
"Then why do you want to know if he is married?" There was a faint breathlessness in that question.

It was difficult, hideously difficult; Alison pulled her courage round her like a cloak, forced herself to speak bluntly.

"I only wondered why you didn't marry him, that's all."

"What on earth do you mean?"

Words which dropped out slowly.

"Nothing. Only—well, the day before yesterday I saw you kiss him in your flat," Alison got it out breathlessly. "And tonight I could see that you were in love with him and—oh!"

Her voice failed. She shrank back against the silk-lined wall of the box in sheer panic.

For the thin, bony face opposite had contorted into snarling anger, pallid so that the reddened lips stood out like a clown's paint. But it was Daphne's eyes which made Alison squeeze back defensively.

Out of the Past

Happenings of days gone by as chronicled in The Star and Sentinel and The Gettysburg
Times the files reveal.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

Memorial Day Is Again Kept: Seldom has Gettysburg celebrated Memorial Day under more favorable conditions than on Monday afternoon. Bright skies, a large assemblage of visitors from many states, the parade more successfully organized than for some years, the National cemetery in its most beautiful garb, an orator of distinction, all contributed to make the event one of unusual success.

Promptly at one o'clock the parade started to form and Chief Marshal Tawney had his divisions well arranged and in capable hands, so there was little delay in getting the column moved.

Upon the conclusion of the flower strewing ceremony, all adjourned to the rostrum, where Dr. T. C. Bil-heimer was master of ceremonies.
The prayer was offered by Dr. R. S.
Oyler, the Lincoln Gettysburg address was read by Hon. George J.
Benner and the oration was delivered by Colonel A. A. Dale, of Bellefonte. Dr. J. A. Clutz offered the benediction.

Culp—Kimpel: Charles W. Culp, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Culp, of South Washington street, and Miss Loretta C. Kimpel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Kimpel, of Buchanan Valley, went to Baltimore on the early train Saturday morning and were quietly married by Rev.
Fr. Morresey, rector of St. Gregory's church, Mr. and Mrs. Culp will make their home in Gettysburg, where Mr. Culp is employed at the National garage.

Lower—Rummel: At the Reformed parsonage in Arendtsville Tuesday morning the pastor, Rev. T. C. Hesson, married Miss Dessie Rummel and Jacob A. Lower, both of Butler township. The bride is a daughter of Jacob Rummel, and the bridegroom is a son of William Lower.
They will reside in Butler township.

Bell Telephone Inventor Here:
Alexander Graham Bell, inventor of the telephone, was in Gettysburg on Wednesday with a party of friends.
They arrived by automobile Tuesday evening from Frederick and while here are guests at the Hotel Gettysburg.

Case of Typhoid: Vestal Stall-smith, the 12-year-old daughter of Daniel Stallsmith, of North Stratton street, is ill at her home with typhoid fever.

white cloud, and upon the cloud
one sat like unto the Son of man, having on his head a golden crown, and in the hand a sharp sickle.

And another angel came out of the temple, crying with a loud voice to him that sat on the cloud, Thrust in thy sickle, and reap: for the time is come for thee to reap:
for the harvest of the earth is ripe.

And he that sat on the cloud thrust in his sickle on the earth;
and the earth was reaped.

And another angel came out of the temple which is in heaven, he also having a sharp sickle.

And another angel came out from the altar, which had power over fire; and cried with a loud cry to him that had the sharp sickle, saying, Thrust in thy sharp sickle, and gather the clusters of the vine of the earth; for her grapes are fully ripe.

And the angel thrust in his sickle into the earth, and gathered the vine of the earth, and cast it into the great winepress of the wrath of God.

And the winepress was trodden without the city, and blood came out of the winepress, even unto the horse bridles, by the space of a thousand and six hundred furlongs.

Ethiopians War Drums Roll
As Emperor Makes Ready

(By Associated Press)

War drums roll over Ethiopia as Emperor Haile Selassie's barefooted soldiers trudge off to the Italian front.

Peace he desires, this descendant of Solomon and the Queen of Sheba has said time and again, but he will take up the gage of battle if Italy throws it down.

Repeatedly the king of kings and the conquering lion of Judah has appealed his controversy with Benito Mussolini to the league of nations, citing the thousands upon thousands of armed men Il Duce has thrown into east Africa and urging prompt action for settlement without recourse to warfare.

Now the quarrel, arising out of border incidents late last year and early this year, is in the hands of conciliators, though Mussolini has warned Italy not to expect too much from that procedure.

War, if it comes, will not come before September when the rainy season ends, military observers agree, and Haile Selassie is spending the intervening months whipping his military machine into tip-top condition.

"Ethiopia does not want war," he said recently, "but Ethiopia will resist any invasion to the utmost."

Deeds back up his words. Dusky-skinned warriors, some of them clad in second-hand uniforms, some in the traditional white gown, nearly all bare-footed, marched by the palace even as he spoke.

One hundred thousand men, say dispatches from Rome and Addis Ababa, have been moved up to the front. They are described as fairly well equipped, well-armed, their communications and supply facilities in good order.

Unlike the Ethiopian army of 1896, which inflicted upon an overwhelming Italian force an overwhelming defeat that still rankles in Rome, Haile Selassie's soldiers today have wireless and airplane communication instead of barefoot runners, modern rifles and machine guns instead of sabers and ancient firearms.

War supplies arrive daily through Djibouti. Early last month Italian sources estimated 1,060 tons of arms and munitions had been imported, and Italy formally protested to nations furnishing arms to the African country.

DIFFICULTIES
I met an old man yesterday
And this he said to me:
"It wasn't on the level way
Adventure came to me;
And looking back on pleasures flown,
It all is very plain.

The sweetest thrills I've ever known
Were difficult to gain.
"I used to fret and grieve and sigh
And shake my head in doubt,
And wonder through the weeks if I Could work my problem out.
I used to wish that I could find
Some easy task to do.
That difficulties can be kind
Back then I never knew.
"Time was I thought that toil was grim

And ease and pleasures sweet.
I used to sit and envy him
Who had no odds to meet,
And yet I've found, when all is done,
And count the gains I've made,
The happiest victories I've won
Were when I was afraid.
"The easy task has naught to give
Of pleasure and of pride.
The man who joyously would live
Must have his courage tried.
For difficulty and despair
And danger and defeat
And disappointment hard to bear
Are what make victory sweet."

Injured Man Is Found on Road

Harry Miller, 48, of 109 Main street, McSherrystown, is a patient at the Hanover General hospital as a result of injuries received Tuesday morning when his automobile struck a culvert on the Hanover-Gettysburg road west of Bruns-town. Miller's most serious injury was a deep laceration of the head. He suffered somewhat from the loss of blood.

Miller was taken to the hospital in the Hanover ambulance at about 2:30 a. m. from the highway at the Geiselman farm, a short distance west of the Conewago creek bridge.
A motorist had reported a short time before to Hanover police that he saw a man's body lying along the highway west of Bruns-town, and the ambulance was sent to the scene.

Miller, when he was taken to the hospital, was unable to say what had happened, but marks on the highway and the position of his automobile indicated the machine had run into a culvert.

"Good Tea

MADE ME A TEA DRINKER"

"Up to a short time ago, I wasn't a tea drinker. Then I tasted my first cup of India Tea. Now it's on my menu morning, noon and night. India Tea is my kind of tea. It's rich, winy and full-flavored.
There's nothing weak about it." To get

Englishwoman, Freed of Murder Of Husband, Ends Life in River

Christchurch, England, June 6 (AP).—Freed by a jury on charges of slaying her husband, Alma Rattenbury, 38, plunged a dagger through her heart and slipped into the Stour river, an autopsy on the recovered body revealed Wednesday. In a final letter to her lawyer, the acquitted woman gave instructions to "spare no money or effort to secure a reprieve" for George Stoner, 18-year-old chauffeur condemned to hang for the mallet slaying of Francis Rattenbury, his 68-year-old employer. William Mitchell, a herdsman, attempted to seize the woman but she was beneath the surface of the water before he could act. She left the dagger sheath, a handbag and six letters on the river bank. Police suppressed the contents pending an inquest Friday, but described them as "sensational in nature." One letter was addressed to the doomed Stoner, who, after his conviction, expressed joy that the Old Bailey jury had spared his mistress. Stoner was hired as a chauffeur last November. Shortly thereafter he and Mrs. Rattenbury became intimate. On the night of March 24 the elderly husband sat reading before his fireplace in Bournemouth when he was struck and fatally injured by mallet blows. He died four days later. His widow and the chauffeur were arrested. Both confessed, police statements said, but later Mrs. Rattenbury withdrew her confession. At the Old Bailey trial the woman admitted her intimacy with Stoner; Counsel for Stoner admitted his client struck the blows, but contended he was under the influence of narcotics at the time. When the jury condemned Stoner and freed her Mrs. Rattenbury was taken to a nursing home. The herdsman who found the body told the police: "I tried to grab her foot, but she slipped into the river. I cannot swim, so I held out my coat and shouted to her to grasp it. Her head went back. I saw blood coming up through the water."

Wonderful News For JELLY MAKERS

SEE WHAT AMAZING NEW SURE-JELL DOES!

Gives two-thirds more jelly or jam ... Perfect results with any fruit. Much better flavor and texture, too!

1 ONLY 1/2 MINUTE BOIL ... for jellies; one minute for jams. Just think of the time you save! You can actually finish a whole batch of jam or jelly in less than 15 minutes after your fruit is prepared! That's one reason women everywhere are so delighted with this new powdered pectin product.

2 TWO-THIRDS MORE JELLY or jam ... Because of that extremely short boil, none of the juice boils away. So you actually get two-thirds more jam or jelly ... as much as 10 glasses from the same amount of fruit that gave you only 6 glasses the old, "long-boil" way. What a saving in money!

3 PERFECT RESULTS with any fruit; finer flavor, too ... No more worry about failures. Sure-Jell eliminates new pectin product. This wonderful new pectin product, all fruits jell perfectly. The flavor is much finer, too. Short boiling retains all the real flavor of the ripe fruit—no "boiled-down" taste!

MONEY BACK OFFER

Buy two packages of Sure-Jell. Use one. If it does not do all we claim for it, just take the other package back to your grocer. He will refund the full price of both packages. (Sure-Jell is a product of General Foods. You can buy it at any grocer's.)

Women Told to Fight to Lift Standards at Clubs' Parley

Detroit, June 6 (AP).—An appeal to women to fight to raise the standards of living in America was made Wednesday by Dr. Josephine L. Pierce, of Lima, Ohio, who told the triennial convention of the General Federation of Women's clubs that one child out of every six in the country was a member of a family on relief.

The day's session was enlivened by the charge of Mrs. Morrison Poole, of Brockton, Massachusetts, president of the federation, that electioneering was being conducted in the meeting hall.

"I want it understood that this will not be tolerated," Mrs. Poole declared, exhibiting a torn placard. "Some one has tampered with the Oklahoma delegation's sign."

Dr. Pierce is Candidate
The Oklahoma group is supporting Mrs. Roberta Campbell Lawson, of Tulsa, for election to the presidency next Monday. Mrs. Poole said that she wanted it understood that she did not attach any blame for mutilation of the placard to delegations from any of the other states. Doctor Pierce is the other leading candidate for the presidency.

Senator Thomas P. Gore, of Oklahoma, warned the convention of social consequences he said might follow continuation of the public dole. In considering public welfare, he satin princess model fashioned with a slight train. Her white tulle veil had a turban trimmed with orange blossoms and she carried a bouquet of white roses and lilies of the valley.

Miss Frances Baish, of Mechanicsburg, who attended as maid of honor, wore a pink net Colonial gown with low decolletage in back and a train. She had a wide pink lace hat trimmed with pink and blue net, and her flowers were pink roses and blue delphinium. Ray Ramsey, of Paxtang, was best man.

A reception at the church followed the ceremony, and on their return from a honeymoon trip to the shore, Mr. Beaver and his bride will live in Paxtang for a short time.

Miss Hayward is a graduate of West Orange high school, East Stroudsburg State Teachers' college, Montclair State Teachers' college, and has been supervisor of physical education at the Swatara Township high school. The bridegroom attended John Harris high school and Gettysburg academy and is associated with H. R. Beaver and Son Heating supplies company in Harrisburg.

VETERAN RELIEVED OF CONSTIPATION* BY NATURAL FOOD

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN Corrects His Condition

Here is an interesting, unsolicited letter: "I have used Kellogg's ALL-BRAN for about 4 years, and find it a wonderful relief for constipation.* While in Government Service in the P. I. I contracted constipation* in 1898-99.

"I consider your ALL-BRAN in terms of millions, instead of the cost of a box of pills, for it surely has saved me. I eat ALL-BRAN every morning." — F. L. Wylie, Visalia, Calif.

*Constipation due to insufficient "bulk" in meals.

Research shows Kellogg's ALL-BRAN supplies gentle "bulk" to aid regular habits. ALL-BRAN is also rich in vitamin B and iron.

ALL-BRAN is a delicious laxative food... far better than patent medicines. Two tablespoonfuls daily are usually sufficient. If not relieved this way, see your doctor.

other triumph, the locals chalked up their ninth victory of the season. They lost but three games.

Bert Dehlin led the assault for the Zeiglermen by crashing four hits, including a long homerun. Seitzling also hit for the circuit for the Hershey aggregation.

Coach Zeigler's team won the fifth with a four-run uprising in the fifth inning after Hershey had taken an early lead.

Although he was found for nine safties, Thomas had enough stuff on his deliveries to add ten more victims to his strikeout list.

school project. In submitting the list, the visitor asked whether it was not the customary procedure for workers to be suggested in connection with the application for the project. Hopkins advised him that it was not. The list, he said, was destroyed.

Wilcox was questioned concerning the issuance of medical orders. Formerly, the visitors investigated discrepancies in medical orders by checking with the patients. This investigation is now done by agents dispatched from Harrisburg. He said doctors were known to make visits by talking with the patient from his—the physician's—automobile. Wilcox said he believed this happened in area No. 4, but could not recollect any particular case.

Moomaw suggested that a doctor be supplied with a list to which a patient would affix his signature each time he was treated. He said

Mother of Twins Receives Degree

Shepherdstown, W. Va., June 6.—While Mrs. Bessie VanMetre Bergdoll recuperated in a hospital at Martinsburg, following the birth of twin girls two weeks ago, Shepherd State Teachers' college here today awarded her an A. B. degree in elementary education, following her completion of the work.

She was one of 124 students given either diplomas or degrees at the finals of the college Wednesday morning, at which Secretary of the Interior Harold L. Ickes made the address.

Husband High School Teacher
Mrs. Bergdoll, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. I. D. VanMetre, near Martinsburg, resides in Petersburg, West Virginia. She entered Shepherd in 1929, received her standard normal diploma in 1931, and then took up studies for the A. B. Her husband is a member of the faculty of the high school at Petersburg.

The twins have been named Ann Marie and Blanche Oates, the latter a combination of the names of Miss Blanche Young, superintendent of nurses at the hospital, and Dr. T. K. Oates, the attending physician. Her husband also is a graduate of Shepherd and was conspicuous in athletics at the college.

Gets 20 Years for Killing His Wife

Luray, Va., June 6 (AP).—Ernest Meadows, indicted for the slaying of his wife, Ordella, was convicted late Wednesday of second-degree murder by a Page county jury, which fixed his punishment at 20 years in the state penitentiary.

The verdict was returned after an hour's deliberation.

C. A. Hammer, Jr., defense attorney, said action would be started immediately for a new trial.

Verdict Surprises Judge
Presiding Judge H. W. Bertram said he was surprised a first-degree murder verdict was not returned by the jury, which weighed the defendant's assertion the slaying was accidental against the commonwealth's testimony that Meadows deliberately shot his wife to death.

One of the last of the commonwealth's rebuttal witnesses, Mrs. Myrtle Camuels, said Mrs. Meadows, on the morning of her death, told her she had quarreled that day with her husband.

"I cut down Carbon"

says...THE ENGINEER IN EVERY GALLON

THE TOP-CYLINDER OIL IN EVERY GALLON CONTAINS A CARBON-SOLVENT

WE SAY that Tydol Gasoline has "an engineer in every gallon" because into every gallon is blended a special top-cylinder oil. This lubricant is also a carbon-solvent, which keeps valves and top-cylinders free from rust and carbon.

The gasoline itself distributes this super-lubricant to the valves and the piston-heads of your motor...vital spots which your motor oil does not reach. By freeing those important motor-parts from carbon, by reducing heat, by smoothing out friction...lubricating Tydol means a smoother, quieter, more effortless motor.

This extra lubrication service in Tydol means extra miles in every gallon and extra power in every mile. Yet you can put "the engineer in every gallon" to work for you at no extra cost...for Tydol, the lubricating gasoline, costs no more than ordinary motor fuels.

Tide Water Oil Company, Norway St. and M. & P. R. R., York, Pa.

TAKE UNCLE SAM'S WORD...

"This Gasoline Is Different"

Tydol pays Uncle Sam an extra tax because it contains a special top-cylinder lubricant...yet TYDOL, the lubricating gasoline, does not cost you a penny extra. That is why Uncle Sam says: "This gasoline is different."
